Why are Stock Yards Bank & Trust and Field & Main Bank merging?

» The combined banks will create a stronger community bank for the region, expanding the number of Stock Yards Bank & Trust branch locations, and allowing Stock Yards Bank & Trust to continue expanding into new markets.

» Stock Yards Bank & Trust believes this will be a good strategic investment and will provide significant growth opportunities within the marketplace that will ultimately improve our customer's experience.

What will change?

» From your perspective, very little will change, but once Field & Main Bank has been converted to Stock Yards Bank & Trust in the 4th quarter of 2026; you will have additional locations for your convenience.

Will my account numbers change?

» No. Your account numbers will remain the same.

Will this affect my loan accounts?

» No. Your loan will remain the same.

Will this change my online banking?

» No. Your online banking and other Stock Yards Bank & Trust services will remain the same.

What happens to my FDIC insurance coverage if I have deposits at both Stock Yards Bank & Trust and Field & Main Bank?

» When two or more insured banks merge, deposits from the assumed bank are separately insured from deposits at the assuming bank for at least six months after the acquisition.

» This grace period gives a depositor the opportunity to restructure his or her accounts, if necessary.

» As we go through the integration process, you will be informed of any issues with your continued FDIC insurance.

» Customers impacted will receive specific information in advance of the conversion.

Will any Stock Yards Bank & Trust branches be closing?

» At this time, Stock Yards Bank & Trust does not foresee closing any branches.

What will happen to the Field & Main Bank employees?

» We expect many of the employees to move over to Stock Yards Bank & Trust. Although specific details haven't been defined, we will be working with Field & Main Bank to ensure a smooth transition.

There is a Field & Main Bank location near my home, can I use it now?

» Not yet. We appreciate your patience while we work to combine the two banks. You will be able to use the Field & Main Bank locations after conversion in the 4th quarter of 2026.